A Message from Pastor Brenda

In this season of light, as we continue to learn and be reminded of how God in Christ is our light in this world, we are reminded as to how we as God's children in baptism are called to be a light in this world as well. Let me begin with a story.

Many years ago when I was serving the Cross and Spire Parish (Redeemer Lutheran, Esterhazy and New Stockholm Lutheran, countryside) I toured a potash mine. This was a new experience for me, travelling deep down into the earth. We exited the elevator into a cavernous space replete with artificial lighting. The air was still. Our guide described how a potash mine functions and then warned us that he was going to turn out the lights. I thought I knew darkness but soon realized I knew nothing. The dark was so dark I couldn't even see my finger when I held it in front of my eyes. The depth of the dark was all consuming and disorienting. And then, a little wooden match was lit. That tiny spark of light was all that was needed to break open that vast cave of darkness. Didn't matter the size differential between the darkness and the light. That little bit of light was so illuminating, it was enough to experience relief and hope, to know that I was okay.

These days, I, a self-proclaimed news hound, can find myself turning off the media because the reality is so bad, the darkness so over whelming. These days, it can be tempting to simply hunker down under the weight of reality and focus on what makes me and mine okay.

And then I am reminded of my call in Christ, the same for all the baptized, to 'proclaim Christ through word and deed, care for others and the world God made, and work for justice and peace.' I am reminded of the words of welcome at the end of the baptismal rite - 'Let your light so shine before others that they may see your good words and glorify your Father in heaven.' And then there are these words spoken by the gathered assembly - We welcome you into the body of Christ and into the mission we share.' In other words, I am reminded of the light I have been given in my baptism, the light I am called to be, to break the darkness I encounter AND that I do not do this alone. Thanks be to God!

As I recall that long ago tour, I remember the power of a little light. I am reminded to never underestimate the power of a smile, an act of kindness, a timely email or phone call, showing up and just being present, the gift of respect and creating space to understand. Though it's true that none of these little sparks of action on their own will cure the ills of the world, I do believe in the power of their accumulative effect.

God help us to allow our little light to shine.

Accessibility and Inclusion During Worship at Our Savior's Lutheran Church

Here at Our Savior's Lutheran Church, we strive to be inclusive of everyone, including people with disabilities. Below is information about some of the ways Our Savior's is working to make worship more accessible and inclusive. If you have a need that isn't included below, please let us know! -The Accessibility and Inclusion Subcommittee

Hearing/Auditory Disabilities

Hearing challenges and hearing disabilities vary a lot from person to person, and there is no one solution that fits all, so we have tried to come up with many solutions that will give you options. Hopefully one of the options below will be helpful to you or your neighbour.

Noise-Amplifying Headsets: Available on the table at the back of the church, these headsets work very well for most people --when they have working batteries! The headsets are simple to use. Put the headphones over your ears, and roll the dial to your preferred volume level. There is a clip on the device which allows you to clip it on to your belt, or you can slip it into a pocket so it doesn't drop. If you prefer a different style of headphone, you are welcome to bring a set from home that has a 3.5 mm jack; we can store it in a bag with your name on it in the drawers. If you are having trouble with the headset during worship, please talk to the ushers—they have extra batteries if needed. We have tried to have enough headsets to meet the need, plus a few extra headsets for visitors. If we need to acquire more headsets, please let us know.

Where you sit can make a difference in the sound you hear: Sound travels, and where you sit in the sanctuary can make a difference on how well you are able to hear. We encourage you to experiment with sitting in different places to see where the sound is best for your particular needs.

Pew Bibles: Every week this congregation rotates who reads the Bible lessons, trying to have as many people participate in worship as possible. With so many different voices using the lectern microphone, sound can sometimes be inconsistent. All Bible lessons can be found in print form in the pew Bible; some people find it easier to hear when you also follow along with the written word.

Large Print Worship Bulletins (these are to help with hearing too!): Some people hear better when they can read what is being said; our Large Print bulletins include most of the words being spoken from the lectern microphone. Large Print Bulletins are available from the ushers at the usher's table.

Seeing / Visual Disabilities

Large Print Bulletins: Every Sunday we offer Large Print bulletins, available from the usher. These include the order of worship, announcements, and large print copies of the hymns. These are printed on white paper, with font styles and sizes that were recommended. If you have a visual disability or impairment and the Large Print Bulletins don't work for you, please let us know so we can figure out an alternative solution. If we need to print off more copies of the Large Print Bulletins, please let us know; we are happy to do so.

Coloured Overlays: Some people find coloured overlays helpful in reducing visual stress, making it easier to read what is on white paper. Pink and blue overlays are available in the same drawer as the noise cancelling headphones (third/middle drawer). If a different colour of overlay works better for you, please let us know and we can acquire that colour to have on hand.

Wall Projection vs Hymnal vs Large Print: Different people have different visual needs, so we offer various options. Our worship liturgy and hymns can be found projected on the wall, as well as in the red/cranberry-coloured hymnals located in each pew. Additionally, the large print bulletins contain much of the service music. Coloured overlays are also available (see above) if those are helpful.

Accessible Seating: Our Savior's currently has two sections reserved for seating for people with mobility devices: one is located on the front left by the pulpit and the other on the right lectern side, halfway down. Our Savior's is in the process of assessing how to better accommodate accessible seating for people with mobility devices. If you know of a need that is not being met or could be better met, please let us (the Accessibility and Inclusion Committee or the Church office) know.

Sensory Needs

Fidgets+: A basket of fidgets and other sensory items is at the back near the Usher's Table for use during worship. If there is a different kind of fidget or sensory item that you would appreciate having available, please let us know.

Coloured Overlays: Pink and blue coloured overlays are available in the third/middle drawer at the back, under the noise-cancelling headphones. If you need us to acquire a different colour, please let us know.

Noise Cancelling Headphones: Noise cancelling headphones are available in the third/middle drawer. They are brightly coloured to distinguish them from our black/grey noise amplifying headphones. Technically child-sized, they can fit many adult heads.

Sensory Break Area: If one needs a sensory break from worship, the Fireside Room is available, though Sunday School will be in there for part of the worship service. Another option is to go to the Fellowship Hall in the basement; it can be a place for either quiet and calm, or a place to run around. We request that children are accompanied by an adult if they are in the basement.

Sensory-Friendly Worship: We are trying to figure out ways to make worship more sensory-friendly. If you or someone you know has a need or a suggestion, please let us know.

Washrooms

Washrooms with Bars: All washrooms at Our Savior's have accessibility bars to support you while you stand and sit. Each washroom is configured slightly differently, and some may be better suited to an individual's need than others. Upstairs, the washroom closest to the Fireside Room is the most spacious, and many find it the easiest washroom to use if you have a walker or large mobility device. The washroom upstairs closest to the office is the most compact, with everything in close proximity.

Wheelchair Accessible Washroom: The washroom that meets wheelchair accessibility standards most fully is downstairs, the one closest to the back wall. If you need to use this washroom on Sunday morning and are unfamiliar with our building, we suggest you ask an usher for assistance to make sure the basement lights are on and to assist you in locating the washroom.

Other Important Accessibility Information

Elevator: Here at Our Savior's we have an independently-workable elevator (not the key kind), that is accessed through the front entrance. If the front doors are locked, please call the church office at 306-586-0006, and someone can let you in.

Parking: Accessible parking spots are located both to the north of the building off of Massey Road, and to the south of the building in the main parking lot.

Scents and Fragrance: Many people in our community have adverse reactions to perfumes, colognes, and other scented products. We strive to be fragrance-free at Our Savior's; our washrooms have unscented soap and our hand-sanitizer is fragrance-free. Please help us continue to make our community more accessible to people with scent sensitivities by refraining from wearing perfume, cologne and other scented products when you are in the building. Thank you.

Cushions: A large bin full of cushions is located in the entranceway/narthex by the Usher's Table. Many find these cushions improve comfort when sitting during worship.

Sitting and Standing: Our Lutheran style of worship involves both sitting and standing. Feel free to stand or sit as best suits you!

Contact Information

Accessorily & Inclusion Subcommittee: If you have a need or idea about how Our Savior's Lutheran Church can be more accessible and inclusive of people with disabilities, please contact the Church office and they will connect you with someone from the Accessibility and Inclusion Subcommittee: Carol Flotre, Marja Hordern, Cindy Leggott or Wendy McCutcheon. The office can be reached at office@oslregina.com or 306-586-0006.
